

MEDICINE+HUB

Click here www.medicinehub.org.uk for more about the livestock industry's Medicine Hub. It is an online tool to help record medicine use in cattle and sheep which is widely supported by the livestock sector as a means of demonstrating responsible antibiotic use, as well being useful in managing the health and welfare of stock on your farm. Data can be uploaded directly onto the hub through a number of routes, one of the most straightforward being via the practice sharing medicine sales data. It is all stored securely and confidentially. Get in touch with the practice if you want to find out more.
